A micro-credit program under Bashundhara Foundation, Bashundhara Technical Institute, Bashundhara addin Medical College Hospital, Bashundahara Eye-hospital & Research Institute te and Bashundhara Special Children Foundation are the non -profitable concern of the group.

An Overview of the Economy of Bangladesh

The economy of Bangladesh has grown up by 7.28% during the year under review while it was 7.1% in the previous year. The risks to the growth outlook from the modest global growth and weaker remittances inflows and inflation risks from rise in the livelihood expenses and its spillover into the inflation played pivotal role on the overall economy of our country. However by some supportive policy measures along with stable inflation condition and macro-economic environment helped Bangladesh to become a role model of sustainable development for the least developed countries. Bangladesh is now placed in the middle income transitions and continuing its focus on easing infrastructure bottlenecks, improving of livelihood, containing of cost of doing business and skills; and increasing of investment scene will help to create some more and better job opportunities in the years to come.

Present Global Scenario of Paper Industry

It is the global production of paper and viewed that paper products continuously increased over the last few decades from 125 mm tons in 1970 to 365 mm tons in 2006. It is expected that the market for paper and paper board will continue to grow until 2030, with particularly sharp increases in developing countries. It was due to increases in population, literacy rates, and quality of life and a slight decline in the most advanced industrialized counties due to advanced their preference to the electronic communications systems.

Although over the last three decades, the demand for paper and paper products has increased globally but production levels have not reached to the level to meet the demand of the entire paper consumers. The overall global paper industry is fragmented in consequence of rapid urbanization, improvements in lifestyle of consumers, rise in disposable income and literacy rate. Some special factors - demographic condition, economic condition and environmental regulations have a significant impact on the global paper industry dynamics. The increase in the literacy rate, recycling, population, and economic growth are anticipated as the significant factors to boost the global paper industry. Through innovation and energy diversification the paper industry in the developed countries has been turning away from natural forest resources as its raw materials. The industry witnessed many up and downs over the last few decades due to remarkable changing pattern in publications. The publication sector has long been considered as the significant user of papers for publishing the newsletters, journals, and other print media etc. The global demand for paper and paper products has increased rapidly as some emerging countries' economies have depicted significant growth. The population growth and increasing business activity also have direct influence on the consumption of specialty papers. Increasing market share of some emerging economies in global trade and rapid industrialization have impact on demand for paper. Population growth, urbanization, increase in middle class population, rises in standard of living and increase in the literacy rates all over the globe also have role over the growth of paper sector.

However, the global paper industry has also been facing certain challenges posed by increased use of electronic media, increased trend of automations, enhanced environmental regulations in the developed countries as well as other countries, volatility in raw materials availability and prices, energy inputs and increasing trend of transportation costs etc.

Overall Paper Market Scenario

Generally, all writing and printing are done on paper. Paper is also widely used as wrapping and packaging materials as well. The significance of paper and paper products in modern life is obvious to everyone now a day.

Over the last three decades, the paper production has been increased globally but has not yet reached to the optimum production levels and the paper market needs more and more supplies. It is projected that the market for paper and paper products will continue to grow globally at 2.3% per annum till the Year 2030, with particularly sharp increases in developing countries and a slight decline in the most advanced industrialized counties. The global production of paper and board has also been increased in the last few decades continuously e.g. from 125 million MT in 1970 to 485 million MT in 2017.

In Bangladesh, the paper industry went into operation during late 1950s when the Karnaphuli Paper Mill (KPM) at Chandragona in Chittagong was established and the private sector paper mills started to operate since in the early 1980s. Gradually the private sector has taken over its hold on the paper sector of the country and now the private sector producing 90-95% paper products as used by the consumers of Bangladesh.

At present, more than 40 paper mills are operating all over the country out of about 100 mills and produce different grades of paper including writing, printing, packaging, liner, media, simplex, duplex, board, newsprint, cigarette, etc. Bashundhara Paper Mills Ltd possess around 30% market share at this moment.

Overall Tissue Paper Market Scenario

Per capita consumption of Tissues in Bangladesh is 145 gm;

Our tissue product's contribution to national GDP is 0.025%;

Yearly growth rate is around 13% whereas global growth rate is 4.90%.

Demand and Supply Gap

According to the recent trend we believe the demand will cross 3200 MT within next 1 or 2 years. In relation, we have taken initiatives to focus rural markets now a day. Our nationwide awareness development program through discussion session, meeting, and seminar is going on and we have included thousands of Imams, religious personalities, leaders, socially recognized and respected persons in such programs. As a result, we observed that awareness for using tissue products in the rural people is developing day by day and people in the rural and urban areas have started using tissue products which definitely increasing the demands.

Though our production capacity is around 2,000 MT/ month but our factory runs with approximate 80% of its capacity. As a result we usually get 80-85% of our total requirement and due to shortage of production capacity we cannot meet the market demand. Thus short supply becomes common phenomenon now a day.

Moreover, we are on the process to start a converting unit with 500MT production capacity in Kolkata, India and another converting unit with more 500 MT production capacities at Shiliguri, India. Jumbo rolls of papers for such converting will be sent from our factory in Bangladesh.

Over last few years this company has been exporting considerable quantity of papers in various countries of the world including England, Australia, Bahrain, UAE, India, China etc. Considering more margins we earlier focused on domestic markets rather than export markets. However by getting good response and continuous requests from overseas customers this company has been exploring to expand its export markets and trying hard to reach its products to more and more destinations. And our expert sales teams are working hard in implementing the plan of further business expansion outside of the country.

Considering above circumstances this company has also taken up the well planned strategy to increase its production capacity to further more extent for which it has already imported some new plant and machineries and within a very short period of time some more will reach to this company against its opened L/Cs.

Paper Market Scenario

It is viewed that the country's paper sector has been on a positive growth trajectory as the demand for paper rising on both the local and international markets. Only a few years back, the imported papers met a large portion of domestic demands, but now the market share and the capacity of local manufacturers has grown up significantly. The number of paper mills has now increased to more than 100 from around 50 five years back, while 15 or 20 more units are under process to go into operation soon, in a market survey it has been stated. The paper sector, which is churning out around 1.5 million tons of paper in a calendar year, has also generated about 1.0 million direct and indirect employments.

Recently, many factories in China and some European countries have faced closure due to higher production cost and other issues, which opened up opportunities for a country like Bangladesh. This country can take this advantage and grab a share of the global market, cashing in on the closure of around half of the mills in China and Europe. There is a huge demand for almost all types of paper, including packaging paper, art paper, newsprint and writing paper, in the country against the backdrop of rapid industrial growth.

Sources said the industry may capture a big share of the global market if provided with more policy supports such as raising cash incentive, checking illegal trade and promoting the sector abroad.

However, the paper sector needs to address several challenges effectively to make its growth sustainable. One of it is the increasing prices of raw materials in the international market including the cost of imported both hardwood and softwood pulps which have gone up almost double by just two years. But manufacturers could not adjust the price proportionately, resulting in marginal profitability. The paper sector has to import hardwood pulp mostly from Indonesia while softwood pulp from North America and Europe which produce pulps from various types of trees. As this country cannot produce pulp as it doesn't have adequate trees in forest area the local paper sector is fully dependent on pulp import which is a major barrier to becoming competitive in the global market.

The recurrent congestions in Chittagong port make it difficult to bring the pulp-laden containers to paper industries timely and the Chittagong seaport lacks suitable paper-handling facility. Beside these challenges, the paper sector has been facing another challenge of shortage of skilled human resources required in the factory.

In this country the packaging, printing, publication and education sectors, both public and private offices are the main consumers of various types of papers and paper products. A challenge for this sector is the wide scale import of several types of papers at a large volume which being imported every year despite gradual rise in local manufacturers' capacity. The illegal trade of papers which have been imported under bonded facility is also posing a threat serious to the local paper sector of Bangladesh. The threat further geared up when the export oriented apparel sector of this country prefers imported papers for its packaging and other process.

Despite all odds, this company is making headway by meticulously addressing all the challenges and running its business activities.

Moreover, we have taken initiatives to create awareness as to increase the tissue uses. Our continuous effort will definitely explores new arenas for our tissue products.

At present it was observed that the monthly requirement of tissue products was around 2,200 MT for which BPML's contribution was around 80% of the total requirements. By the ceaseless efforts it is expected that this company will be able to grab more market shares in the coming days.

Existing Market Segment:

Generally tissue products' market of Bangladesh can be divided into 03 following segments-

- i. Urban Markets;
- ii. Semi-Urban Markets; and
- iii. Rural Markets.

People under urban markets frequently purchase all types of tissue products, mostly facial tissue, napkin and toilet tissues whereas people living in semi-urban areas use tissue products like napkin and toilet tissue. On the other hand toilet tissues are frequently sold in rural areas along with small quantity of other tissue products.

However, the tissue paper market is growing due to increase of population, changed lifestyles, development of awareness. Besides, potential markets in rural areas are now expanding more than ever as around 70% people of the country live in such areas. From this point of view we expect that although the paper's market is lessening but the tissue paper's market will expand in future.

Market Competition

In every business there have some competition as many companies generally compete in the same sector or field. In the paper sector of this country there are more than 100 modern paper mills out of which 40 mills are running and are producing a large quantity of paper and paper products. Few years back our country has to import paper and paper products entirely but the scenario has been changed gradually. And since the establishment of small numbers of paper mills in the private sector, these industries started to take lead and since then trying to make this country self-sufficient in production of paper and paper products to fulfill the local demand.

The paper industry in Bangladesh went into operation during late 1950s and currently out of more than 100 paper industries 40 local private paper mills are producing more than 550,000 MT of paper and paper products per year. The paper industry has become a successful sector in Bangladesh and it has a potential to become one of the country's major foreign currency earners. After readymade garments (RMG) and leather industry, this sector is playing a vital role in our national economy.

Despite this due to increase in imported items, the domestic production of paper and paperboard has to cut their production to some extent. Some of the Bangladesh's paper mills even are producing paper and paperboard at only half of their capacities.

The paper producers of this country are also exporting products to various countries. After meeting the local demand, they are exporting to about 40 countries, bringing in large amounts of foreign currency. According to the Export Promotion Bureau (EPB), paper product exports totaled to US$ 10 million in the fiscal year (2016-2017). By introducing modern technology, the paper producers adding values to this sector, and foreign buyers have started coming to import paper products because of the good quality from Bangladesh. Recently, many factories in China and some European countries were set close due to various reasons including higher production costs and environmental concerns, which opened up opportunities for a country like Bangladesh. The country can take some advantages by grabbing a share of the global market cashing in on the closures.

This company views that if the matters are being reviewed regularly, challenges are faced on time and necessary steps being taken at the right direction then adversity of competition can be contained. It has started to stitch to new techniques to reduce production costs and produce more export quality paper products maintaining international standards.

We have also introduced advanced technology to process some wastage coming out from our mills and converting it into by-products.

The management of the company perceives that the paper industry is an integral part of economic growth of Bangladesh.

Marketing Environment

It is the actor and force that affect the ability of a company to build and maintain successful relationships with the consumers and its clientele, fulfill and satisfy their demand on time as well. Market promotional activities are considered multi-dimensional which helps a number of activities and is a technique for gearing up sales of a company. Through which the selling of products increased, consumers' knowledge about the product increased and also help the consumers to save their time in purchasing of products. It also helps the manufacturers to sell their products. Hence quick selling is possible which leads to more production at less cost. The relation between intermediaries is improved through these activities and is the key to marketing communication of any product or brand. It helps to create awareness as well as to show the product attributes and benefits of the brand to the mass consumer level.

This company operates its promotional programs through continuous innovative activities and campaigns aimed for the consumers, sellers of various levels and users. The promotional activities of this company are carried out through wide range of promotional activities for the target customers and it has been carried out by a team of creative and energetic personnel who launch frequent programs including advertising, personal selling, sales promotion, training and knowledge sharing, public relations and direct marketing, etc.

Raw Materials Supply & Production

The history of paper making goes back to 2nd Century while first official report on the manufacture of paper was reported in China in 105 AD. The knowhow of paper manufacturing spread from there to outside countries, along with the silk and trade routes. Pulp and paper production has increased globally and will continue to increase in the near future and still is one of the largest manufacturing sectors in this globe. Per capita consumption of paper of a country sometimes considered as the yardstick for measurement of its industrialization. There are about several billions of people living on this earth and paper consumption during this century has increased to more than four times faster than population growth at the same time.

Paper industry consumes a wide variety of raw materials both cellulosic and non-cellulosic - from forest, agricultural residues, waste papers, coal, various chemicals etc. The major raw materials used in the paper industry is hard wood pulp, soft wood pulp, hard & soft wood kraft pulp, waste papers, various agricultural residues etc. Apart from this, paper industry consumes large amount of chemicals. Almost all the raw materials used for production of paper and paper products by the paper and paper products producers in Bangladesh are imported from various destinations including Indonesia, Canada, Sweden, Singapore, Oman, Malaysia, Philippines, China, South Korea, Brazil, Finland, USA etc.

The paper industry of this country has to import almost all raw materials for paper production in every year. It is due to the fact that our country lacks the natural forest resources for which it is unable to meet up the local paper producers' demand for pulp of different types as its raw materials.

The paper producers of Bangladesh has to import paper producing raw materials including pulp of all types from the countries like - Indonesia, Singapore, Germany, Canada, Finland, Sweden, Brazil, Chile, North American Countries etc. According to sources, hardwood pulp is mostly imported from Indonesia, while most softwood pulp imported from North America and Europe. These countries produce pulps from various types of trees. Due to this country's full dependence on the imported raw materials the paper and paper products sector has been facing the problem of continued increase of prices of raw materials in the international market. During the year under review the cost of imported hardwood pulp has gone up to double in comparison to its prices of just two years back. It is to be noted here that per metric ton softwood pulp's price in the international market shot up to US $950 during the year under review which was US $500 per metric ton just two years ago. It is very hard for the paper manufacturers of this country to adjust the increased price which ultimately results in marginal profitability.

According to sources, hardwood pulp is mostly imported from Indonesia, while softwood pulp from North American and European countries. These countries produce pulps from various types of trees of their natural vast forests.

In the paper manufacturing industry a major factor is power, as the production of paper and paper products are very much technology dependent which require huge supply of electricity. The power supply to the factories are met by the national power grid but interruption to power supply and fluctuation thereto result disruptions in production and increase of production costs.

Further, the transportation cost is also a factor as through this system the items on both the ways i.e., import of raw materials and supply of finished products are carried on and incur huge expenses for it. The products of the BPML are segmented in three broad segments: Bulk Papers; Tissue Paper Products; and Health & Hygiene Products.

Our Company has its own distribution channel which operates its supply network. For bulk raw materials and produced commodities carrying work and supplying this company has to use ships and cargo-vessels, some of which are owned by it. This company for its delivery of raw materials to the factory and supply of finished products - paper and paper products all over in the country uses cargo-vessel, chemical tankers, pick-ups, covered vans of different capacities, refrigerated vans and trucks as well.

Moreover, recurrent congestions in Chittagong port make it difficult to bring the pulp-laden containers to Dhaka and other parts of the country directly. This adversity to the paper sector further increased as the Chittagong seaport lacks suitable paper-handling facility.

Another challenge the paper sector of this country has, since the very inception, been facing - shortage of skilled manpower in the factory levels. Even for the paper and paper products handling there are shortages of skilled labour force which are being required for loading and unloading of paper and paper products.

Consumers Segmentation

Our country is located in South East Asia and culturally the people of this country contains the South Asian values and cultures. It is economically in lower middle income bracket and the society is divided into several economic groups : upper rich class, upper middle class, lower middle class and lower income people. As a it is multi dimensional society so the consumers' behavior pattern is little bit complex.

Now a day, the tissue paper industry of our country is mostly led by local factories. And this company was one of the pioneer of this particular segment. But in the past it was a fully import based item. The segment has kept growing gradually due to increase of population, developing of health and hygiene awareness, change in life styles and rising of incomes of our country people. It has been reported that 80 per cent of the people of this country are using tissue papers at least once a month. More than 1.0 million families use toilet paper rolls every week and facial tissue box in every month while hotel and restaurants consume about 10 million pieces of table napkin annually which helped to the growth of this sector.

Our country's tissue market's segments are-

- i. Urban Markets;
- ii. Semi- Urban Markets; and
- iii. Rural Markets.

People in under urban areas frequently purchase all types of tissue products, mostly facial tissue, wet tissue, napkin, pocket and toilet tissues whereas people living in semi-urban areas use tissue products like napkin, pocket and toilet tissue. On the other hand toilet tissues which are in the lower cost bracket are frequently sold in rural areas. The consumers of the pocket tissues are mostly the students and labour forces.

In a recent report is was published the demand for tissue paper was around 3,500 MT in 2007 while the country's paper companies produced 20,000 MT in FY 2017-2018. The local tissue paper industry meet most of the demand for toilet paper, facial tissue, kitchen towels, table napkin, and wrapping tissue, incentivised by diversified consumers of the country. And this company itself has produced 16,004 MT of tissue papers for local and foreign buyers during the year under review. The process of rapid urbanisation is leading the industry, and it is expected that the size of the market will increase in the coming years due to growing use of the paper and paper products in urban and rural areas.

BPML has started to build up its capacity through introducing latest technology to produce high quality products.

Transportation

The raw materials to produce paper and paper products as well as the finished products are considered as bulk commodities. The paper manufacturing industries of this country are fully dependent on imported raw materials. The most of the import of raw materials is made through waterways as the paper producers have to import raw materials in bulk quantity by sea. In view of this the cost of transportation is considered as very vital in paper sector. So, this company has to pay special attention on cost effective paper and paper products distribution channels. Our Company has its own distribution channel which operates its supply network. For raw materials and finished products carrying work and supplying ships and cargo-vessels are used, some of which are owned by this company. This company for its delivery of raw materials to the factory and supply of finished products - paper and paper products all over in the country uses cargo-vessel, chemical tankers, pick-ups, covered vans of different capacities, refrigerated vans and trucks as well.

During the year under review transportation costs in both the road and waterways were increased very significantly for which this company had to incur additional costs for transportation of the raw materials as well as finished goods. This is to be noted here that the fuel costs, water transportation costs were increased significantly and inflation of the country also raised and delays in unloading of raw materials in the ports also had negative effects on the cost of production in paper sector.

Seasonality

The products of the BPML are segmented in three broad segments:

- i. Bulk Papers ;
- ii. Tissue Paper Products;
- iii. Health & Hygiene Products.

Every year during different part of the year the paper sector faces sharp variation in the demand for its products specially the bulk white paper. It was found that demand for bulk papers run to its peak during September to February months of a calendar year when the text books are printed and education year at the national level begins as well as the national book fair took place. This fair and enthusiast attracts huge crowds in the event irrespective of their nationalities ages, gender, class and castes. It is being regarded as the peak time for the printing and publication houses of this country. During the March to June period the demand for bulk white paper reduces to considerably lower extent. It is the off season of the bulk papers. But it almost reaches to the lowest level during the July – August period which is considered as the dull season for the bulk papers.

In the tissue paper products segment the dull season viewed during Ramadan month when the majority of the people of this country perform the rituals of fasting. During this month the demand for tissue paper reduces to the lowest level and for which it is considered as the dull period. However after the end of Ramadan and during the festivities the demand for tissue paper products come back to its position. The rainy season is considered as the off season for the tissue paper products in our country. And during the remaining part of a year the demand for tissue paper products remain almost static.

In the Health & Hygiene Products segment of this company, it has been observed that the demand for hygiene products run to its peak in the winter months which usually continue during the months of November to January of a calendar year. After the winter period, the demand for health and hygiene products show decreasing trend and within the month of March it reduces to a lower level as such it is regarded as the off season of health and hygiene products segment.

The remaining part of a calendar year is considered as the dull season for the health and hygiene products.

Taking these matters into consideration this company has developed and following the season responsive approaches and to make the wheel to move has taking various steps including introducing of more new products which have demand during the dull or off seasons and delivering its products to the targeted consumers. These efforts helps this company to cope with the adversity of the dull and off seasons of this scetor.

Production - Supply management

In a manufacturing company like BPML the process of manufacturing of paper and paper products is technology dependent and very complex as well. The efficiency of production of paper and paper products are dependent on the effective supply management. It is a multi-functional approach that includes managing the movement of raw materials, processing of materials into finished goods, and the movement of finished goods towards the end users effectively, timely and efficiently. The paper and paper products are high-volume, low-value commodities so the transportation of the raw materials as well as the finished goods over distances have direct effects on the costs and earnings.

Another special feature of the paper sector is that it brings lower margins to the producers' way. And in the supply chain from the producers to the end users the paper and paper products there are many intermediaries.

Production and Sales

The paper sector of this country is placed in a very competitive market scenario. Once, our country was fully dependent on imported paper and paper products but the condition has been changed. Now this country have more than 100 modern paper mills out which 40 mills are running and are producing a large quantity of paper and paper products. And some paper producers are exporting their products and earning foreign exchanges for the country. Moreover, the paper industry of this country is no longer now limited to production of writing and printing papers.

There are several factors that have impact on production and supply of paper and paper products. The paper producers have to cope up with the market demand and supply is directly related to the changes in demand and quantity demanded. The paper sector is affected by some other factors - rate of inflation, fiscal policies and financing opportunities etc. which affect the buying power of the customers and thus result in change of supply situation of paper and paper products. This company has carefully designed its production and business strategy with the option of midterm evaluations on regular basis. We also have engaged our expert team to monitor the emergence of new competitions and risk issues. This also brought positive impact in the overall operational result. For example our monthly sales were only Tk. 20 lacs per month in the year 2000 when this company commenced its production, whereas the monthly sales of BPML stood to Tk. 94 crores per month during the FY 2017-2018 under review. And potential markets in rural areas are now exploring more than ever as around 70% people of the country live in such areas. Low overhead cost is the most significant facility it is being observed among the competitors in the sector. The production and sales of paper and paper products are inter dependent. The demand of paper and paper products in our country has some unique characteristics.

The products of the BPML are segmented in three broad segments:

- i. Bulk Papers;
- ii. Tissue Paper Products;
- iii. Health & Hygiene Products;
- iv. PPWB & Sacks.

This company sales its paper and paper products through various options including -

- | | |

| i. Distributors; | v. Industrial units/Offices; |
| ii. Dealers; | vi. Printers & Publishers; |
| iii. Retailers; | vii. Individual Consumers; |
| iv. Suppliers; | viii. Other Customers. |

To gear up the sales, this Company has arranged series of idea sharing meetings, seminars, conferences, competitions and assemblies of the dealers, students, teachers, professionals and the consumers - existing and potential as well during the years 2017-2018.

paper napkin, facial tissue, kitchen towel, pocket tissue, paper towel, clinical bed sheets and jumbo roll tissues etc.

Production Capacity Increase

The major pulp and paper industries in Bangladesh have grown in Dhaka and Chittagong regions. At present there are around 100 paper mills and only Karnaphuli Paper Mills Ltd (KPML) is the integrated pulp and paper producing company in Bangladesh having 30,000 MT production capacities per year. Except KPML all other paper mills use foreign pulps and recycled fibre. Substitute for paper, which is online media or publications (books, magazine and journals) is not yet popular in Bangladesh which suggests steady growth of demand for papers in the upcoming years. But energy crisis and shortage of quality raw material hampers production and supply scenario and hence limits optimum capacity utilization paper mills. The industry is highly correlated with offices, educational intuitions, agencies, Newspapers, industrial growth and daily life style. The per capita paper and board consumption in Bangladesh is about 3.5 to 4 kg and that in advanced countries is more the 300 kg per year and the world average is around 50 kg while the Asia average is around 30 kg. If Bangladesh desires to grow up to Asia level, consumption may increase to 10 times of current consumption.

Statement on Corporate Governance

Dear Shareholders,

We are pleased to present to you the Annual Corporate Governance Report for the FY 2017-2018 of Bashundhara Paper Mills Limited.

The theme of moving forward, and how important it is that the company has an ability to manage it responsibly and effectively, runs throughout our integrated report for the year.

One principle of corporate governance is shareholder recognition, which is a policy that ensures that all shareholders have a say in the inner workings of a company. These rules and responsibilities of board members must also be made clear to make sure that everyone shares a uniform vision of the company's future. Ethical guidelines of corporate governance are also crucial to secure higher profit and keep the company out of legal trouble. These rules apply to employees and board members. Transparency must be apparent, which should take the form of record keeping and reports on income. It is valuable therefore to reflect specifically on the milestones we have attained and the challenges we have considered in our corporate governance journey and to highlight our focus areas for the year ahead.

A Review on last year

Corporate governance makes companies more accountable and transparent to investors and gives them the tools to respond to legitimate stakeholder concerns such as sustainable environmental and social development. It contributes to development and increased access to capital encourages new investments, boosts economic growth, and provides employment opportunities. Good governance practices have become substantially important for the development and sustainability of the capital markets and the protection of investor interests.

These practices have also become a key factor for investors and lenders when making their investment and funding decisions.

In light of the growing interest among stakeholders, including shareholders and potential investors, we have given due attention in this report to cover governance issues that are of interest to all constituents of our ecosystem.

Frame Work on Corporate Governance

- Shareholder recognition is key to maintaining a company's stock price. More often than not, however, small shareholders with little impact on the stock price are brushed aside to make way for the interests of majority shareholders and the executive board. Good corporate governance seeks to make sure that all shareholders get a voice at general meetings and are allowed to participate.

- Stakeholder interests should also be recognized by corporate governance. In particular, taking the time to address non-shareholder stakeholders can help your company establish a positive relationship with the community and the press.
- Board responsibilities must be clearly outlined to majority shareholders. All board members must be on the same page and share a similar vision for the future of the company.
- Ethical behavior violations in favor of higher profits can cause massive civil and legal problems down the road. Underpaying and abusing outsourced employees or skirting around lax environmental regulations can come back and bite the company hard if ignored. A code of conduct regarding ethical decisions should be established for all members of the board.
- Business transparency is the key to promoting shareholder trust. Financial records, earnings reports and forward guidance should all be clearly stated without exaggeration or "Creative" accounting. Falsified financial records can cause your company to become a Ponzi scheme, and will be dealt with accordingly.

Added concentration area for the Financial Year

- Companies Act 1994;
- BSEC'S Order & Directives
- Stock Exchanges Listing Regulations;
- Other applicable Law & Regulations;
- Proper Composition of the Board & Management & Executive Committee;
- Independency of the Board & Committee and its effectiveness;
- Separate entity of key Executive(s) and the role and responsibility;
- Statutory & Financial Reporting;
- Statutory General Meeting & Committee meeting;
- Relationship of Stakeholder & Shareholder;
- Corporate Social Responsibility & Relationship;
- Formulating Eco& Employee friendly work place and policy & guideline;

This ensures the report's reliability as a reference for the assessment of corporate governance practices in this Company and also reflects the efficiency and effectiveness of our administrative processes and operational transparency of procedures at all levels across the company.

Looking Forward

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all regulatory bodies involved in overseeing the application of corporate governance across the bank and we have the highest regards for ensuring that good governance is fundamental to ensure the stability of the financial and banking sectors and therefore the overall economy.

In conclusion, through it is the 25th General Meeting but this is the first Annual General Meeting of the company. So emphasize our commitment to improve the wide range of improving corporate governance, We will pay special attention to support a culture of compliance that reflects adherence to business ethics and transparency and an unquestioned respect for law, legislations and regulations to ensure the effective contribution in the sustainable development of our country.

With best wishes,

3.1.3 Depreciation

Depreciation is recognized so as to write off the cost or valuation of assets, less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed for the 1st time at end of 2010 by SGS Bangladesh Limited, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Depreciation on revalued buildings, plant and machinery, furniture, fixtures and equipments is recognized in profit or loss. On the subsequent sale or retirement of a revalued property, the attributable revaluation surplus remaining in the properties revaluation reserve is transferred directly to retained earnings.

Freehold land is not depreciated.

Depreciation begins when the asset is available for use and continues until the asset is derecognized. All items of property, plant and equipment have been depreciated on straight line basis over the estimated useful lives of property, plant & equipment as under:

Category	Useful life (Year)
Land and Land Development	Nil
Building and other constructions	2-50
Furniture & Fixtures	11-14
Office Equipment	10-14
Motor Vehicle	1-10
Plant & Machinery	1-20
Sundry Assets	9-11

*Land is not depreciated as it deemed to have an infinitive life.

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated over their expected useful lives on the same basis as own assets. However, when there is no reasonable certainty that ownership will be obtained by the end of the lease term, assets are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives.

3.1.4 Derecognition

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in profit or loss.

3.1.5 Revaluation

The fixed assets as at 31 December 2010 were 1st time revalued to their fair market value as per decisions of the Board of Directors. All fixed assets under property, plant and equipment available on the cut-off date 31 December 2010 were revalued by an independent valuer S. F. IAS 38.118

3.1.6 Software

Software is generally charged off as revenue expenditure. Customized software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalized as part of that equipment.

Acquired computer software's capitalized on the basis of the costs incurred to acquire and bring to use the specific software. These costs are amortized over their estimated useful lives.

3.1.7 Disposal of Fixed Assets

On Disposal of Fixed Assets, the cost and accumulated depreciation are eliminated and gain or loss on such disposal is reflected in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, which is determined with reference to the net book value of the assets and net sales proceeds.

3.1.8 Maintenance Activities

The company incurs maintenance cost for all its major items of property, plant and equipment. Repair and maintenance costs are charged as expenses when incurred.

IAS 16.63

3.1.9 Impairment

The carrying value of the Company's assets other than inventories, are reviewed to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An impairment loss is recognized whenever the carrying amount of the assets or its cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses, if any, are recognized in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income in the year concerned.

3.2 INTANGIBLE ASSETS

3.2.1 Recognition

The recognition of an item as an intangible asset requires to demonstrate that the item meets the definition of an intangible asset and the recognition criteria. An intangible asset is recognized as an asset if, and only if:

- / it is probable that expected future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the company; and
- / the cost of the item can be measured reliably.

3.2.2 Measurement

An intangible asset is measured at cost less any accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment losses. Subsequent expenditures are likely to maintain the expected future economic benefits embodied in an existing intangible asset rather than meet the definition of an intangible asset and the recognition criteria. In addition, it is often difficult to attribute subsequent expenditure directly to a particular intangible asset rather than to the business as a whole. Therefore, expenditure incurred after the initial recognition of an acquired intangible asset or after completion of an internally generated intangible asset is usually recognised in profit or loss as incurred. This is because such expenditure cannot be distinguished from expenditure to develop the business as a whole.

3.2.3 Separately Acquired Intangibles Assets

The cost of a separately acquired intangible asset comprises:

- / its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates;
- / and any directly attributable cost of preparing the asset for its intended use.

3.2.4 Internally Generated Intangible Assets

The cost of an internally generated intangible asset is the sum of expenditure incurred from the date when the intangible asset first meets the recognition criteria. The cost of an internally generated intangible asset comprises all directly attributable costs necessary to create, produce, and prepare the asset to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

3.2.5 Research Phase

No intangible asset arising from research (or from the research phase of an internal project) is recognised. Expenditure on research (or on the research phase of an internal project) is recognised as an expense when it is incurred.

3.2.6 Development Phase

An intangible asset arising from development (or from the development phase of an internal project) is recognised in IAS-38: Intangible asset. The company's intangible assets include computer software development (SAP), Design, construction and development of products, Augmented Reality. Internally generated brands, mastheads, publishing titles, customer lists and items similar in substance are not recognised as intangible assets.

3.2.7 Recognition of an Expense

In some cases, expenditure is incurred to provide future economic benefits to an entity, but no intangible asset or other asset is acquired or created that can be recognised. For example, expenditure on research is recognised as an expense when it is incurred, except when it is acquired as part of a business combination. Other examples of expenditure that is recognised as an expense when it is incurred include:

- / expenditure on start-up activities i.e. start-up costs/ pre-operating cost.
- / expenditure on training activities.
- / expenditure on advertising and promotional activities.
- / expenditure on relocating or reorganising part or all of an entity.

3.2.8 Past Expenses

Expenditure on an intangible item that was initially recognised as an expense is not recognised as part of the cost of an intangible asset at a later date.

3.2.9 Revaluation of Intangibles

The revaluation model requires an intangible asset shall be carried at a revalued amount, being its fair value at the date of the revaluation less any subsequent accumulated amortisation and any subsequent accumulated impairment losses. However, fair value shall be measured by reference to an active market. The revaluation model does not allow the revaluation of intangible assets that have not previously been recognised as assets; or the initial recognition of intangible assets at amounts other than cost.

IAS
38.118(a)

3.2.10 Amortization

The amortization amount of an intangible asset with a finite useful life shall be allocated on a systematic basis over its useful life. Amortisation begin when the asset is available for use, ie when it is in the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. Amortisation cease at the earlier of the date that the asset is classified as held for sale and the date that the asset is derecognised. An intangible asset with an indefinite useful life is not amortised.

Sl no	Category	Useful lives
1	SAP Software	25
2	CRM Software	10

3.2.11 Derecognition of Intangible Assets

The carrying amount of an item of intangible assets is derecognised on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. The gain or loss arising from the derecognition of an item of intangible assets is included as other income in profit or loss when the item is derecognised. When the revalued assets are disposed off, the respective revaluation surplus is transferred to retained earnings.

3.3 LEASED ASSETS

IAS 17.
8, 20,27

3.3.1 Finance Lease

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. Upon initial recognition the leased asset is measured at an amount equal to the lower of its fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Subsequent to initial recognition, the asset is accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to that asset.

3.3.2 Operating Leases

Lease payments under an operating lease are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the user's benefit.

3.3.3 Initial Recognition

At the commencement of the lease term, the company recognises finance leases as assets and liabilities in their statements of financial position at amounts equal to the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, the present value of the minimum lease payments, each determined at the inception of the lease. Any initial direct costs of the lessee are added to the amount recognised as an asset.

3.3.4 Subsequent Measurement

Minimum lease payments are apportioned between the finance charge and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to each period during the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Contingent rents are charged as expenses in the periods in which they are incurred. A finance lease gives rise to depreciation expense for depreciable assets as well as finance expense for each accounting period. The depreciation policy for depreciable leased assets is consistent with that for depreciable assets that are owned, and the depreciation recognised is calculated in accordance with IAS: 16 Property, Plant and Equipment and IAS: 38 Intangible Assets. If there is no reasonable certainty that the lessee will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term, the asset is fully depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and its useful life.

IAS 17.25

3.3.5 Lease Payments

Minimum lease payments made under finance leases are apportioned between the finance expense and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The finance expense is allocated to each year during the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

IAS 1.78(b)

3.4.1.1 TRADE AND OTHER RECEIVABLES

Financial liabilities include payable for expenses, liability for capital expenditure and other current liabilities.

3.4.2.1 TRADE AND OTHER PAYABLE AND ACCRUALS

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (when the effect of the time value of money is material)

When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, a receivable is recognized as an asset if it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount of the receivable can be measured reliably.
